4. In the event that a Party adopts or maintains a prohibition or restriction on the importation from or exportation to a non-Party of a good, nothing in this Agreement shall be construed to prevent the Party from:

- (a) Limiting or prohibiting the importation from the territory of another Party of such good; or
- (b) requiring as a condition of export of such good to the territory of another Party, that the good not be re-exported to the non-Party, directly or indirectly, without being consumed in the territory of the other Party.

5. In the event that a Party adopts or maintains a prohibition or restriction on the importation of a good from a non-Party, the Parties, on request of another Party, shall consult with a view to avoiding undue interference with or distortion of pricing, marketing and distribution arrangements in that other Party.

Further, to gain protection, each contracting Party shall notify the other Parties of the geographical indications or appellations of origin which, fulfilling the above-mentioned requirements, shall be considered within the scope of the protection.

4. All of the above shall be understood without prejudice to the recognition that the Parties may grant to homonymous geographical indications and appellations of origin that legitimately could belong to a non-Party.

However, in the event that these specific duties are dismantled in full or in part with respect to any Party or non-Party after this Agreement comes into force, the Party that applies the price band system shall grant the other Party treatment no less favourable than it grants to any other Party or non-Party.

4. For the purposes of this Annex, the Parties incorporate their applicable law and the schedule of goods that are currently included in the price band systems, which are listed below.

 - (a) The basis for tariff classification of goods is the Harmonized System; and
 - (b) the value of a good or material shall be determined on the basis of the principles of the Customs Valuation Agreement.
2. In applying the Customs Valuation Agreement under this Chapter to determine the origin of a good:
 - (a) The principles of the Customs Valuation Agreement shall apply to domestic transactions, with such modifications as may be required by the circumstances, as would apply to international transactions; and
 - (b) the provisions of this Chapter shall take precedence over the Customs Valuation Agreement to the extent of any difference.
3. A Party may only accumulate origin with originating goods from countries in which this Agreement has come into force.
4. In cases where there is no specific rule of origin common to all the Parties for a good, the rules of origin of this Chapter shall apply only between the exporting Party and the importing Party, considering the other Parties that do not have that specific common rule of origin as non-Party countries.
5. Two years after this Agreement comes into force for all the Parties, they shall establish a programme of work to examine the possibility that materials of Chilean origin can be accumulated for the purpose of complying with the rules of origin in effect among the Central American countries. This shall apply provided the end good into which the materials are incorporated is subject to free trade between Chile and each Central American country and among the latter.
6. Notwithstanding paragraph 5, if the Central American countries accord the treatment referred to in Article 4.02(5) to a non-Party country before they accord it to Chile, they shall accord treatment no less favourable to goods of Chilean origin.

Article 4.03 Originating goods

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, a good shall be considered originating where:

- (c) the good is produced in the territory of one or more of the Parties from non-originating materials that undergo a change in tariff classification, comply with a regional value content or meet other requirements, as set out in Annex 4.03, and the good satisfies all other applicable provisions of this Chapter; or
- (d) the good is produced in the territory of one or more of the Parties but one or more of the non-originating materials that are used in the production of the good do not undergo a change in tariff classification because:
 - (i) The good was imported into the territory of a Party in an unassembled or a disassembled form but was classified as an assembled good pursuant to Rule 2(a) of the General Rules of Interpretation of the Harmonized System;
 - (ii) the heading for the good provides for and specifically describes both the good itself and its parts, provided the heading is not divided into subheadings; or
 - (iii) the subheading provides for and specifically describes the good and its parts; provided that the regional value content of the good, determined in accordance with Article 4.07, is not less than 30 per cent and the good satisfies all other applicable requirements of this Chapter, unless the applicable rule of Annex 4.03 under which it is classified specifies a different regional value content requirement, in which case that requirement is to be applied. The provisions of this subparagraph do not apply to the goods included in Chapters 61 to 63 of the Harmonized System.

2. If a Party complies with the specific rule of origin established in Annex 4.03, it shall not be required to comply as well with the regional value content established in paragraph 1(d).

3. For the purposes of this Chapter, a good produced from non-originating materials that undergo a change in tariff classification and satisfy the other requirements set out in Article 4.03 shall have been produced entirely in the territory of one or more of the Parties and the entire regional value content of the good shall be met in the territory of one or more of the Parties.

4. Notwithstanding this Article, goods shall not be considered originating despite complying with the requirement of a change in tariff classification of their materials, where the goods are exclusively the result of the operations established in Article 4.04 performed in the territory of the Parties through which they acquire the final form in which they will be sold, where such operations have used non-originating materials, unless the specific rule of origin of Annex 4.03 states otherwise.

Article 4.04 Minimum operations or processes

The minimum operations or processes which in themselves or in combination do not confer origin on a good are:

Article 4.06 Accumulation

1. Materials or goods originating in the territory of a Party incorporated into a good in the territory of another Party shall be considered originating in the territory of the latter Party.
2. For the purposes of determining whether a good is an originating good, the producer of a good may choose to accumulate own production with that of one or more producers in the territory of one or more Parties of materials that are incorporated into that good, so that the production of the materials is considered to have been performed by that producer, provided the good complies with the requirements of Article 4.03.

Article 4.07 Regional value content

1. The regional value content of goods shall be calculated on the basis of the following formula:

$$\text{RVC} = [(\text{TV} - \text{VNM}) / \text{TV}] * 100$$

RVC	is the regional value content, expressed as a percentage;
TV	is the transaction value of the good adjusted to a F.O.B. basis, except as provided in paragraph 2. In the event there is no transaction value or one cannot be determined under Article 1 of the Customs Valuation Agreement, the value shall be determined in accordance with Articles 2 through 7 of that Agreement; and
VNM	is the transaction value of non-originating materials adjusted to a CIF basis, except as provided in paragraph 5. In the event there is no transaction value or one cannot be determined under Article 1 of the Customs Valuation Agreement, the value shall be determined in accordance with Articles 2 through 7 of that Agreement.

2. Where the producer of the good does not export it directly, the transaction value shall be adjusted to the point at which the purchaser receives the good within the territory where the producer is located.
3. Where origin is determined on the basis of the regional value content method, the required percentage shall be specified in Annex 4.03.
4. All the costs considered in calculating the regional value content shall be recorded and maintained in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles applicable in the territory of the Party in which the good is produced.
5. Where the producer of a good buys a non-originating material in the territory of the Party where the producer is located, the value of the non-originating material shall not include freight, insurance, packing or any other cost incurred in transporting the material from the warehouse of the supplier to the location of the producer.
6. To calculate the regional value content, the value of the non-originating materials used in the production of a good shall not include the value of the non-originating materials used in the production of an originating material bought and used in the production of that good.

Article 4.08 De minimis

1. A good that does not undergo a change in tariff classification as established in Annex 4.03 shall be considered to be an originating good if the value of all non-originating materials used in the production of the good that do not undergo a change in tariff classification is not more than eight per cent of the value of the good calculated on the basis of Article 4.07.
2. For goods classified in Chapters 50 to 63 of the Harmonized System, the percentage established in paragraph 1 refers to the weight of the fibres and yarns compared to the weight of the good produced.
3. Paragraph 1 does not apply to a non-originating material used in the production of a good provided for in Chapters 1 to 27 of the Harmonized System unless the non-originating material is provided for in a different subheading than the good for which origin is being determined under this Article.

Article 4.09 Fungible goods

1. Where originating and non-originating fungible goods are used in the preparation or production of a good, the origin of that good may be determined by applying one of the following inventory-management methods, at the choice of the producer:
 - (a) First-in-first-out (FIFO);
 - (b) last-in-first-out (LIFO); or
 - (c) method of averages.
2. Where originating and non-originating fungible goods are physically commingled in the inventory and do not undergo any productive process or any other operation in the territory of the Party in which they were physically commingled, other than unloading, reloading or any other movement necessary to maintain the goods in good condition or ship them to the territory of another Party, the origin of the good may be determined on the basis of one of the inventory management methods.

3. Once one of the inventory management methods has been selected, it shall be used during the entire fiscal year or period.

Article 4.10 Sets and assortments of goods

1. Sets and assortments of goods classified as provided in Rule 3 of the General Rules of Interpretation of the Harmonized System and goods whose description under the nomenclature of the Harmonized System is specifically that of a set or assortment shall qualify as originating, provided that each of the goods in the set or assortment complies with the rules of origin established in this Chapter and in Annex 4.03.

2. 2. Where a specific rule of origin is defined on the basis of a change in tariff classification and in its wording exceptions are made for classifications on the chapter, heading or subheading level in the Harmonized System, it shall be interpreted that the materials in those tariff classifications must be originating for the good to qualify as originating.

3. The excepted materials separated by commas and with the disjunction ("or"), must be originating for the good to qualify as originating, even in the event that one or more of the materials covered by the exception is used in its production.

3. Each Party shall require its exporters to complete and sign a certificate of origin for any exportation of a good for which an importer may claim preferential tariff treatment.

 - (ii) its reasonable reliance on the producer's written representation that the good qualifies as an originating good; or
 - (iii) the declaration of origin referred to in paragraph 1; and

- (c) provide, on the request of that Party's competent authority, a copy of the certificate of origin; and

2. Each Party shall provide that where an importer in its territory fails to comply with any of the requirements established in this Chapter, it shall be denied the preferential tariff treatment claimed for the good imported into the territory of the other Party.

In such cases, the exporter or producer shall not be subject to penalties for having presented an incorrect certificate or declaration.

3. Each Party shall provide that the competent authority of the exporting Party shall inform the competent authority of the importing Party in writing of the notification referred to in paragraph 2.

4. Each Party shall provide that a false certification or declaration by an exporter or a producer in its territory that a good to be exported to the territory of another Party qualifies as an originating good shall have similar legal consequences, with appropriate modifications, as would apply to an importer in its territory for a contravention of its customs laws and regulations regarding the making of a false declaration or representation.

5. Each Party shall provide that its exporter or producer that completes and signs a certificate or declaration of origin shall retain for a minimum period of five years after the date on which the certificate or statement was signed, all the records and documents relating to the origin of the good, including those referring to:

- (a) A commercial importation of a good whose customs value does not exceed US$1,000 or its equivalent amount in the Party's currency, or such higher amount as it may establish, except that it may require that the invoice accompanying the importation include a declaration by the importer or exporter certifying that the good qualifies as an originating good;
- (b) a non-commercial importation of a good whose value does not exceed US$1,000 or its equivalent amount in the Party's currency, or such higher amount as it may establish; or

3. An exporter or producer that receives a questionnaire pursuant to paragraph 2(a) is required to complete and return it within 30 days from the date of receipt. During the period, the exporter or producer may, on one occasion, apply in writing for an extension of the period, which may not be for more than 30 days.

4. In the event that the exporter or producer fails to return the duly-completed questionnaire within the period or extension, the importing Party may deny preferential tariff treatment.

5. Prior to conducting a verification visit pursuant to paragraph (2)(b), the importing Party shall, through its competent authority, deliver a written notification of its intention to conduct the visit. The notification shall be sent to the exporter or producer whose premises are to be visited, to the competent authority of the Party in whose territory the visit is to be conducted and, if requested by the latter, to the embassy of that Party in the territory of the importing Party. The competent authority of the importing Party shall obtain the written consent of the exporter or producer whose premises are to be visited.

8. Each Party shall provide that, where its exporter or producer receives notification pursuant to paragraph 5, it may, within 15 days of receipt of the notification, apply on one occasion to postpone the proposed verification visit for a period not exceeding 60 days from the date of such receipt, or for such longer period as the Parties may agree. Notification of the postponement of the visit shall be made to the competent authorities of the importing Party and the exporting Party.

9. A Party shall not deny preferential tariff treatment to a good based solely on the postponement of a verification visit pursuant to paragraph 8.

10. Each Party shall permit an exporter or a producer whose good or goods are the subject of a verification visit to designate two observers to be present during the visit, provided that the observers do not participate in a manner other than as observers. The failure of the exporter or producer to designate observers shall not result in the postponement of the visit.

11. Each Party shall, through its competent authority, conduct a verification of the regional value content requirement, de minimis calculation, or any other provision in Chapter 4 (Rules of Origin) in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles applied in the territory of the Party from which the good was exported.

12. The competent authority conducting a verification shall provide the exporter or producer whose good or goods are the subject of the verification with a written determination of whether the good qualifies as an originating good, including findings of fact and the legal basis for the determination.

13. Where verifications by a Party indicate a pattern of conduct by an exporter or a producer of false or unsupported representations that a good imported into its territory qualifies as an originating good, the importing Party may withhold preferential tariff treatment to identical goods exported or produced by such person until that person establishes compliance with Chapter 4 (Rules of Origin).

14. Each Party shall provide that where its competent authority determines that a good imported into its territory does not qualify as an originating good based on a tariff classification or a value applied by the Party to one or more materials used in the production of the good, which differs from the tariff classification or value applied to the materials by the Party from whose territory the good was exported, the importing Party's determination shall not become effective until it notifies in writing both the importer of the good and the person that completed and signed the certificate of origin for the good of its determination.

15. A Party shall not apply a determination made under paragraph 14 to an importation made before the effective date of the determination where:

- (a) The competent authority of the Party from whose territory the good was exported has issued an advance ruling under Article 5.09 or any other ruling on the tariff classification or on the value of such materials, on which a person is entitled to rely; and
- (b) such rulings were given prior to notification of the verification of origin.

Article 5.09 Advance rulings

1. Each Party shall, through its competent authority, provide for the expeditious issuance of written advance rulings, prior to the importation of a good into its territory. The advance rulings shall be issued by the competent authority of the territory of the importing Party to an importer in its territory or an exporter or a producer in the territory of another Party, on the basis of the facts and circumstances presented by them, concerning:

- (a) Whether a good qualifies as an originating good under Chapter 4 (Rules of Origin);
- (b) whether non-originating materials used in the production of a good undergo a change in tariff classification set out in Annex 4.03 (Specific Rules of Origin);

- (c) whether a good satisfies a regional value content requirement established in Chapter 4 (Rules of Origin);
 - (d) whether the method applied by an exporter or a producer in the territory of another Party, in accordance with the principles of the Customs Valuation Agreement, for calculating the value of the good or of the materials used in the production of the good for which an advance ruling is requested is suitable for determining whether the good complies with the regional value content under Chapter 4 (Rules of Origin);
 - (e) whether a good that re-enters its territory after the good has been exported from its territory to the territory of another Party for repair or alteration qualifies for duty-free treatment in accordance with Article 3.7 (Goods Re-Entered after Repair or Alteration); and
 - (f) such other matters as the Parties may agree.
2. Each Party shall adopt or maintain procedures for the issuance of advance rulings, including:
- (a) The information reasonably required to process an application;
 - (b) the ability of its competent authority, at any time during the course of an evaluation of an application, to request supplemental information from the person requesting the ruling;
 - (c) the obligation of its competent authority to issue an advance ruling, after it has obtained all necessary information from the person requesting an advance ruling; and
 - (d) the obligation of its competent authority to provide a full explanation of the reasons for the advance ruling.
3. Each Party shall apply an advance ruling to importations into its territory beginning on the date of its issuance or such later date as may be specified in the ruling, unless the advance ruling is modified or revoked under paragraph 5.
4. Each Party shall provide to any person requesting an advance ruling the same treatment, including the same interpretation and application of provisions of Article 3.07 (Goods Re-Entered after Repair or Alteration) and Chapter 4 (Rules of Origin) regarding a determination of origin, as it provided to any other person to whom it issued an advance ruling, provided that the facts and circumstances are identical in all material respects.
5. An advanced ruling may be modified or revoked in the following cases:
- (a) If the ruling is based on an error
 - (i) Of fact;
 - (ii) in the tariff classification of a good or a material that is the subject of the ruling;
 - (iii) in the application of a regional value content requirement established in Chapter 4 (Rules of Origin); or
 - (iv) in the application of the rules for determining whether a good that re-enters its territory after the good has been exported from its territory to the territory of another Party for repair or alteration qualifies for duty-free treatment under Article 3.07 (Goods Re-Entered after Repair or Alteration);

- (b) if the ruling is not in accordance with an interpretation agreed upon by the Parties regarding Chapter 3 (National Treatment and Market Access for Goods) or Chapter 4 (Rules of Origin);
- (c) if there is a change in the material facts or circumstances on which the ruling is based;
- (d) to conform with a modification of this Chapter, Chapter 3 (National Treatment and Market Access for Goods), Chapter 4 (Rules of Origin) or the Uniform Regulations; or
- (e) to conform with an administrative or judicial decision or a change in the domestic law of the Party that issued the advance ruling.

6. Each Party shall provide that any modification or revocation of an advance ruling shall be effective on the date on which it is issued, or on such later date as may be specified therein, and shall not be applied to importations of a good that have occurred prior to that date, unless the person to whom the advance ruling was issued has not acted in accordance with its terms and conditions.

7. Notwithstanding paragraph 6, the Party issuing the advance ruling shall postpone the entry into force of the modification or revocation for a period not to exceed 90 days, when the person to whom the advance ruling was issued acted in good faith to that person's detriment.

8. Each Party shall provide that where its competent authority examines the regional value content of a good for which it has issued an advance ruling, it shall evaluate whether:

- (a) The exporter or producer has complied with the terms and conditions of the advance ruling;
- (b) the exporter's or producer's operations are consistent with the material facts and circumstances on which the advance ruling is based; and
- (c) the data and computations used in applying the basis or method for calculating value or allocating cost were correct in all material respects.

9. Each Party shall provide that where its competent authority determines that any requirement in paragraph 8 has not been satisfied, the competent authority may modify or revoke the advance ruling as the circumstances may warrant.

10. Each Party shall provide that where its competent authority determines that an advance ruling was based on incorrect information, the person to whom it was issued shall not be subject to penalties provided the person demonstrates that it used reasonable care and acted in good faith in presenting the facts and circumstances on which the ruling was based.

11. Each Party shall provide that where an advance ruling is issued to a person that has misrepresented or omitted material facts or circumstances on which the ruling is based or has failed to act in accordance with the terms and conditions of the ruling, the competent authority that issued the ruling may apply such measures as the circumstances may warrant, under its domestic law.

12. The Parties shall provide that the person to whom an advance ruling has been issued shall only use it for as long as the facts or circumstances on which the ruling is based continue. Should they no longer apply, the person to whom the advance ruling was issued may present information to enable the administration that issued the ruling to proceed under paragraph 5.

13. No good subject to a verification of origin or to a review or appeal body in the territory of any of the Parties shall be the subject of an advance ruling.

Article 5.10 Review and appeal

1. Each Party shall grant to the exporters or producers of another Party the same rights of review and appeal of determinations of origin and advance rulings as it provides to its importers, provided that:

- (a) They complete and sign a certificate or declaration of origin for a good that has been the subject of a determination of origin pursuant to Article 5.08(12); or
- (b) they have received an advance ruling pursuant to Article 5.09.

2. The rights referred to in paragraph 1 shall include access to at least one level of administrative review independent of the official or office responsible for the determination or advance ruling under review; and access to a judicial review of the determination or decision taken at the final level of administrative review, in accordance with the law of each Party.

Article 5.11 Penalties

1. Each Party shall establish or maintain criminal, civil or administrative penalties for violations of its laws and regulations relating to this Chapter.

2. Nothing in Article 5.03(1)(d), 5.03(2), 5.04(2) 5.08(4), 5.08(7) or 5.08(9) shall be construed to prevent a Party from applying such measures as the circumstances may warrant, under its law.

Article 5.12 Uniform regulations

1. The Parties shall establish and implement, under their respective laws and regulations, on the date on which this Agreement enters into force and at any subsequent time, Uniform Regulations regarding the interpretation, application and administration of this Chapter, Chapter 3 (National Treatment and Market Access for Goods), Chapter 4 (Rules of Origin) and other matters as may be agreed by the Parties.

2. The Parties undertake to complete the negotiation of the Uniform Rules no later than 60 days after this Agreement is signed.

3. Once the Uniform Regulations come into effect, each Party shall implement any modification or addition thereto no later than 180 days after the Parties agree on such modification or addition, or such other period as the Parties may agree.

Article 5.13 Cooperation

1. To the extent possible, each Party shall notify another Party of the following measures, rulings and determinations, including those that are prospective in application:

- (a) A determination of origin issued as the result of an origin verification conducted pursuant to Article 5.08, after the avenues for review and appeal referred to in Article 5.10 have been exhausted;

- (b) a determination of origin that the Party considers to be contrary to a ruling issued by the competent authority of another Party with respect to the tariff classification or value of a good or of materials used in the production of a good;
- (c) a measure establishing or significantly modifying an administrative policy that could affect future determinations of origin; and
- (d) an advance ruling or a modification thereof, pursuant to Article 5.09.

2. The Parties shall cooperate:

- (a) In the enforcement of their respective customs-related laws or regulations implementing this Agreement, and under any customs mutual assistance agreement or other customs-related agreement to which they are party;
- (b) for purposes of facilitating the flow of trade among them, in such customs-related matters as the collection and exchange of statistics on the importation and exportation of goods, the harmonization of documentation used in trade, the standardization of data elements, the acceptance of an international data syntax and the exchange of information;
- (c) in the exchange of customs regulations;
- (d) in the verification of origin of a good, to which end the competent authority of the importing Party may request the competent authority of another Party to carry out determined investigations for that purpose in its territory and to issue the respective report to the competent authority of the importing Party;
- (e) in seeking mechanisms for the detection and prevention of unlawful transshipments of goods from a Party or a non-Party; and
- (f) in jointly organizing training programmes on customs matters, which include training for officials and users who participate directly in customs procedures.

CHAPTER 6. EMERGENCY ACTION

Article 6.01 Definitions

For the purposes of this Chapter:

Agreement on Safeguards means the Agreement on Safeguards that is part of the WTO Agreement;

causal relationship means "causal relationship" as defined in the Agreement on Safeguards; critical circumstances means circumstances where delay in taking an emergency action would cause injury that would be difficult to repair;

domestic industry means the producers as a whole of the like or directly competitive good operating in the territory of a Party or those whose joint production of the like or directly competitive good constitutes a significant percentage of total domestic production of that good;

emergency action means any measure applied pursuant to this Chapter. It does not include any emergency action pursuant to a procedure begun before this Agreement enters into force; investigating authority means "investigating authority" as defined in Annex 6.01;

serious injury means "serious injury" as defined in the Agreement on Safeguards; threat of serious injury means "threat of serious injury" as defined in the Agreement on Safeguards; and transition period means the period during which a Party may adopt and maintain emergency actions, which shall include for each good, the Tariff Elimination Programme to which it is subject, plus an additional period of two years after the end of that programme.

Article 6.02 Bilateral emergency actions

1. For the application of bilateral emergency actions, an investigating authority shall conform to the provisions of this Chapter and, supplementarily, to the provisions of Article XIX of the GATT of 1994, the Agreement on Safeguards and its domestic law.

2. Subject to paragraphs 3 through 5, and during the transition period, if a good originating in the territory of a Party, as a result of the reduction or elimination of a duty provided for in this Agreement, is being imported into the territory of another Party in such increased quantities, in relation to domestic production, and under such conditions that the imports of the good from that Party alone constitute a substantial cause of serious injury, or threat thereof, to a domestic industry producing a like or directly competitive good, the Party into whose territory the good is being imported may, to the minimum extent necessary to remedy or prevent the serious injury or threat thereof:

- (a) Suspend the further reduction of any rate of duty provided for under this Agreement on the good; or
- (b) increase the rate of duty on the good to a level not to exceed the lesser of:
 - (i) The most-favoured-nation applied rate of duty in effect at the time the action is taken; and
 - (ii) the most-favoured-nation applied rate of duty in effect on the day immediately preceding the date of entry into force of this Agreement.

3. The following conditions and limitations shall apply to a proceeding that may result in emergency action under paragraph 2:

- (a) A Party shall, without delay, deliver to another Party written notice of the institution of a proceeding that could result in emergency action against a good originating in the territory of the other Party;
- (b) any such action shall be initiated no later than one year after the date of institution of the proceeding;
- (c) no action may be maintained:
 - (i) For a period exceeding three years, extendable for one additional consecutive year in accordance with the procedure established in Article 6.04(21); or
 - (ii) beyond the expiration of the transition period, except with the consent of the Party against whose good the action is taken;

- (d) the Parties may apply and extend the application of an emergency action to the same good no more than twice during the transition period;
- (e) an emergency action may be applied a second time provided a minimum period equivalent to one half of the period during which the emergency action was applied for the first time has elapsed;
- (f) the period during which a provisional emergency action has been applied shall be computed for the purpose of determining the duration of the final emergency action established in subparagraph (c);
- (g) provisional actions that do not become final are excluded from the limitation established in (d);
- (h) during an extension of an emergency action, the duty shall be gradually reduced to the level that applies under the Tariff Elimination Programme; and
- (i) upon termination of the emergency action, the duty shall be the duty that applies under the Tariff Elimination Programme.

4. A Party may apply an emergency action after the expiration of the transition period to deal with cases of serious injury, or threat thereof, to a domestic industry arising from the operation of this Agreement only with the consent of the other Party.

5. The Party taking an action under this Article shall provide to another Party mutually agreed trade liberalizing compensation in the form of concessions having substantially equivalent trade effects or equivalent to the value of the additional duties expected to result from the action. If the Parties are unable to agree on compensation, the Party against whose good the action is taken may take tariff action having trade effects substantially equivalent to the action taken under this Article. The Party taking the tariff action shall apply the action only for the minimum period necessary to achieve the substantially equivalent effects.

Article 6.03 Global emergency actions

1. Each Party retains its rights and obligations under Article XIX of the GATT 1994 and the Agreement on Safeguards except those regarding compensation or retaliation and exclusion from an emergency action to the extent that such rights or obligations are inconsistent with this Article.

2. Any Party taking an emergency action under paragraph 1 shall exclude imports of a good from another Party from the action unless:

- (a) Imports from the other Party account for a substantial share of total imports; and
- (b) imports from the other Party contribute importantly to the serious injury, or threat thereof, caused by total imports.

3. In determining whether:

- (a) Imports from another Party account for a substantial share of total imports, those imports normally shall not be considered substantial if that Party is not among the top five suppliers of the good subject to the proceeding, measured in terms of import share during the most recent three-year period; and
- (b) imports from another Party contribute importantly to the serious injury, or threat thereof, the competent investigating authority shall consider such factors as the change in the import share of the other Party, and the level and change in the level of imports of the other Party. In this regard, imports from a Party normally shall not be deemed to contribute importantly to serious injury, or the threat thereof, if the growth rate of imports from a Party during the period in which the injurious surge in imports occurred is appreciably lower than the growth rate of total imports from all sources over the same period.

4. A Party shall, without delay, deliver written notice to another Party of the institution of a proceeding that may result in emergency action under paragraph 1.

5. No Party may impose restrictions on a good in an action under paragraph 1 without delivery of prior written notice to the Commission, and without adequate opportunity for consultation with another Party, as far in advance of taking the action as practicable.

6. Where a Party determines to take an action pursuant to this Article to originating goods of another Party, the action it applies to the originating goods of the other Party shall consist, solely and exclusively, of tariff measures.

7. The Party taking an action pursuant to this Article shall provide to the other Party mutually agreed trade liberalizing compensation in the form of concessions having substantially equivalent trade effects or equivalent to the value of the additional duties expected to result from the action.

8. If the Parties are unable to agree on compensation, the Party against whose good the action is taken may take action having trade effects substantially equivalent to the action taken under paragraph 1.

Article 6.04 Administration of emergency action proceedings

1. Each Party shall ensure the consistent and impartial administration of its laws, regulations, rulings and determinations governing all emergency action proceedings.

2. Each Party shall entrust determinations of serious injury, or threat thereof, in emergency action proceedings to an investigating authority, subject to review by judicial or administrative tribunals, to the extent provided by domestic law. Negative injury determinations shall not be subject to modification, on its own motion, by the investigating authority. The investigating authority empowered under domestic law to conduct such proceedings shall be provided with all the resources necessary to enable it to fulfil its mandate.

3. Each Party shall adopt or maintain equitable, timely, transparent and effective procedures for emergency action proceedings, in accordance with the requirements set out in this Article.

Institution of a proceeding

4. The investigating authority may institute a proceeding on its own motion or under a petition presented by entities empowered to take action under its domestic law. The entity filing the petition shall demonstrate that it is representative of the domestic industry producing a good like or directly competitive with the imported good. For that purpose, a substantial share may not be less than 25 per cent.

5. Except as otherwise provided in this Article, the time periods governing such procedures shall be those established in the domestic law of each Party.

Contents of a petition

6. An entity representative of a domestic industry that files a petition to initiate an investigation shall provide the following information to the extent that such information is publicly available from governmental or other sources, or best estimates and the basis therefor if such information is not available:

- (a) Product description - the name and description of the imported good concerned, the tariff subheading under which that good is classified, its current tariff treatment and the name and description of the like or directly competitive domestic good concerned;
- (b) representativeness:
 - (i) The names and addresses of the entities filing the petition and the locations of the establishments in which they produce the domestic good;
 - (ii) the percentage of domestic production of the like or directly competitive good that such entities account for and the basis for claiming that they are representative of an industry; and
 - (iii) the names and locations of all other domestic establishments in which the like or directly competitive good is produced;
- (c) import data - import data for each of the three most recent full years immediately prior to the initiation of a procedure to apply an emergency action that form the basis of the claim that the good concerned is being imported in increased quantities, either in absolute terms or relative to domestic production as appropriate;
- (d) domestic production data - data on total domestic production of the like or directly competitive good for each of the three most recent full years immediately prior to the initiation of a procedure to apply an emergency action;
- (e) data showing injury or threat thereof - quantitative and objective data indicating the nature and extent of injury or threat to the concerned industry, such as data showing changes in the level of sales, prices, production, productivity, capacity utilization, market share, profits and losses, and employment;
- (f) cause of injury - an enumeration and description of the alleged causes of the injury, or threat thereof, and a summary of the basis for the assertion that increased imports of the good are causing or threatening to cause serious injury, supported by pertinent data; and
- (g) criteria for inclusion - quantitative and objective data indicating the share of imports accounted for by imports from the territory of another Party and the petitioner's views on the extent to which such imports are contributing importantly to the serious injury, or threat thereof, caused by imports of that good.

7. Petitions shall promptly be made available for public inspection after filing.

Consultations

8. As soon as possible after a petition is presented meeting the requirements of paragraph 6 and, in any event, prior to the initiation of an investigation, the Party that intends to initiate it shall notify the other Party and invite it to hold consultations on the situation.

9. During the entire investigation period, the Party whose goods are under investigation shall be given adequate opportunity to continue the consultations.

10. At the consultations, the Parties may discuss, among other matters, the investigation proceeding, elimination of the action, the matters referred to in Article 6.02(5) and, in general, exchange opinions on the action.

11. Notwithstanding the obligation to provide adequate opportunity for consultations, the provisions on consultations in paragraphs 8, 9 and 10 are not intended to impede the authorities of any Party from promptly initiating an investigation or formulating positive or negative preliminary or final determinations or taking action in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement.

12. The Party that is performing an investigation shall give, when requested, the Party whose goods are under investigation access to the public file, including the non-confidential summary of the confidential information used to initiate the investigation or during its course.

Notice requirement

13. On instituting an emergency action proceeding, the investigating authority shall publish notice of the institution of the proceeding in the official journal or a national newspaper within 30 days after presentation of the petition. The other Party shall be notified of that publication without delay, in writing. The notice shall identify the petitioner, the imported good that is the subject of the proceeding and its tariff subheading, the nature and timing of the determination to be made, the time and place of the public hearing, dates of deadlines for filing briefs, statements and other documents, the place at which the petition and any other documents filed in the course of the proceeding may be inspected, and the name, address and telephone number of the office to be contacted for more information.

14. With respect to an emergency action proceeding instituted on the basis of a petition filed by an entity asserting that it is representative of the domestic industry, the investigating authority shall not publish the notice required by paragraph 13 without first assessing carefully that the petition meets the requirements of paragraph 6.

Public hearing

15. In the course of each proceeding, the investigating authority shall:

- (a) Notwithstanding the Party's law, hold a public hearing, after providing reasonable notice, to allow importers, exporters, consumers associations and other interested parties to appear in person or by counsel to present evidence and to be heard on the questions of serious injury, or threat thereof, and the appropriate remedy; and
- (b) provide an opportunity to all interested parties to appear at the hearing to cross-question interested parties making presentations at that hearing.

Confidential information

16. For the purposes of Article 6.02, the investigating authority shall adopt or maintain procedures for the treatment of confidential information, protected under domestic law, that is provided in the course of a proceeding, including a requirement that interested parties providing such information furnish non-confidential written summaries thereof, or where the interested parties indicate that the information cannot be summarized, the reasons why a summary cannot be provided. The authorities may disregard that information, unless it is convincingly demonstrated by appropriate sources that the information is correct.

17. The investigating authority shall not disclose any confidential information provided pursuant to any commitment regarding confidentiality it has made during the proceeding.

Evidence of injury or threat thereof

18. In conducting its proceeding the investigating authority shall gather, to the best of its ability, all relevant information appropriate to the determination it must make. It shall evaluate all relevant factors of an objective and quantifiable nature having a bearing on the situation of that industry, including the rate and amount of the increase in imports of the good concerned, the share of the domestic market taken by increased imports, and changes in the level of sales, production, productivity, capacity utilization, profits and losses, and employment. In making its determination, the investigating authority may also consider other economic factors, such as changes in prices and inventories, and the ability of firms in the industry to generate capital.

Deliberation and report

19. Except in critical circumstances and in global actions involving perishable agricultural goods, the investigating authority, before making an affirmative determination in an emergency action proceeding, shall allow sufficient time to gather and consider the relevant information, hold a public hearing and provide an opportunity for all interested parties to prepare and submit their views.

20. The final determination shall be promptly published in the official journal or a national newspaper, setting out the findings and reasoned conclusions on all pertinent issues of law and fact. The determination shall describe the imported good and its tariff item number, the standard applied and the finding made. The statement of reasons shall set out the basis for the determination, including a description of:

- (a) The domestic industry seriously injured or threatened with serious injury;
- (b) information supporting a finding that imports are increasing, the domestic industry is seriously injured or threatened with serious injury, and increasing imports are causing or threatening serious injury; and
- (c) if provided for by domestic law, any finding or recommendation regarding the appropriate remedy and the basis therefor.

Extension

21. Where the importing Party determines that the grounds that gave rise to the bilateral emergency action persist, it shall notify the competent authority of the other Party of its intention to extend the action, at least 90 days in advance of its expiry, and shall provide evidence that the reasons for its adoption persist, in order to initiate the respective consultations, which shall be held as provided in this Article. Notifications of extensions and compensation shall be made in the terms established in this Article, prior to the expiry of the measures adopted.

Article 6.05 Dispute settlement in emergency action matters

No Party may request the establishment of an arbitral panel under Article 19.08 (Request for an Arbitral Panel) regarding any emergency action that has simply been proposed.

ANNEX 6.01
INVESTIGATING AUTHORITY

For the purposes of this Chapter, the investigating authority shall be:

- (a) For Chile, the National Investigating Committee on Price Distortions in Imported Goods ("Comisión Nacional Encargada de Investigar la Existencia de Distorsiones en el Precio de las Mercaderías Importadas") or its successor;
- (b) for Costa Rica, the authority determined in its domestic law;
- (c) for El Salvador, the technical unit responsible for investigating situations that may warrant emergency action, reporting to the Ministry of Economic Affairs ("Ministerio de Economía") or its successor;
- (d) for Guatemala, the technical unit responsible for investigating situations that may warrant emergency action, reporting to the Ministry of Economic Affairs ("Ministerio de Economía") or its successor;
- (e) for Honduras, the technical unit responsible for investigating situations that may warrant emergency action, reporting to the Department of Industry and Trade ("Secretaría de Industria y Comercio") or its successor; and
- (f) for Nicaragua, the technical unit responsible for investigating situations that may warrant emergency action, reporting to the Ministry of Development Industry and Trade ("Ministerio de Fomento, Industria y Comercio") or its successor.

CHAPTER 7. UNFAIR TRADING PRACTICES

Article 7.01 Scope and coverage

1. The Parties confirm their rights and obligations as established in the Agreement on Subsidies and Countervailing Measures and in the Agreement on Implementation of Article VI of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade of 1994, which are part of the WTO Agreement.
2. Each Party may initiate an investigation and apply countervailing or anti-dumping duties, in accordance with the Agreements referred to in paragraph 1 and its domestic law.

Article 7.02 Future work programme

1. The Parties share the objective of promoting significant reforms in this field to prevent measures of this kind from becoming concealed barriers to trade. The Parties shall cooperate in the effort to achieve such reforms under the frame of the World Trade Organization and the Free Trade Area of the Americas.
2. Two years after this Agreement has come into force for all the Parties, they shall establish a work programme to examine the possibility of introducing reforms, in the sense of paragraph 1, in their mutual trade.

PART THREE. TECHNICAL BARRIERS TO TRADE
CHAPTER 8. SANITARY AND PHYTOSANITARY MEASURES

Article 8.01 Definitions

1. For the purposes of this Chapter, the Parties shall use the definitions and terms established:
 - (a) In the Agreement on the Application of Sanitary and Phytosanitary Measures, which is part of the WTO Agreement (SPS Agreement);
 - (b) by the International Office of Epizootics (OIE);
 - (c) in the International Convention on Phytosanitary Protection (ICPP); and
 - (d) by the Codex Alimentarius Commission, hereinafter the "Codex".
2. The competent authorities shall be the authorities with legal responsibility for ensuring compliance with the sanitary and phytosanitary requirements established in this Chapter.

Article 8.02 General provisions

1. Based on the SPS Agreement, the Parties establish a framework of rules and disciplines that guide the adoption of and compliance with sanitary and phytosanitary measures, and therefore the provisions of this Chapter refer to the principles, rules and procedures relating to the sanitary and phytosanitary measures which regulate or which may, directly or indirectly, affect trade among the Parties.
2. Through mutual cooperation, the Parties shall facilitate trade that presents no sanitary or phytosanitary risks and undertake to prevent the introduction or spread of pests and diseases and to improve plant and animal health and food safety.

Article 8.03 Rights of the parties

In accordance with the SPS Agreement, the Parties may:

- (a) Establish, adopt, maintain or apply any sanitary or phytosanitary measure in their territory only to the extent necessary to protect human (food safety) and animal life and health, or to preserve plant health, even measures that are stricter than an international standard, guideline or recommendation, providing there is scientific justification for doing so;
- (b) apply their sanitary and phytosanitary measures only to the extent necessary to achieve an appropriate level of protection, taking into account technical and economic feasibility; and
- (c) verify that plants, animals and their products and byproducts for export are subject to strict sanitary and phytosanitary monitoring that ensures compliance with the sanitary and phytosanitary requirements of the importing Party.

Article 8.04 Obligations of the parties

1. Sanitary and phytosanitary measures shall not constitute a disguised restriction on trade or create unnecessary obstacles to trade among the Parties.

2. Sanitary and phytosanitary measures shall be based on scientific principles, be maintained only where there are sufficient grounds and be based on an appropriate risk assessment, taking technical and economic feasibility into consideration.

3. Sanitary and phytosanitary measures shall be based on international measures, standards, guidelines or recommendations, except where it is scientifically demonstrated that such measures, standards, guidelines or recommendations are not an effective or adequate means of protecting human (food safety) and animal life and health, or to preserve plant health in the territory of a Party.

4. Where identical or similar conditions exist, a sanitary or phytosanitary measure shall not discriminate arbitrarily or unjustifiably between its goods and like goods of another Party or between the goods of another Party and like goods of a non-Party.

5. The Parties shall provide the necessary facilities to verify control, inspection and approval procedures, the application of measures and sanitary and phytosanitary programmes.

Article 8.05 International standards and harmonization

To expeditiously apply sanitary and phytosanitary measures in the territory of the Parties, thereby facilitating trade flows, procedures for control, inspection and approval of sanitary and phytosanitary measures shall be based on the following principles:

- (a) Each Party shall use international standards, guidelines or recommendations as the basis for its sanitary and phytosanitary measures, in order to harmonize them or make them compatible with those of another Party;
- (b) notwithstanding subparagraph (a), the Parties may adopt, apply, establish or maintain a sanitary or phytosanitary measure that offers a level of protection different from that which would be achieved by measures based on an international standard, guideline or recommendation, or which is stricter, if there is scientific justification;
- (c) to achieve closer harmonization, the Parties shall follow the guidelines of the competent international organizations – the ICPP for plant health, the OIE for animal health, and the standards of the Codex with respect to food safety and tolerance limits;
- (d) the Parties shall also take into consideration the standards and guidelines of other international organizations of which they are members; and
- (e) the Parties shall establish harmonized sanitary and phytosanitary systems for sampling, diagnosis, inspection and certification of animals, plants, their products and byproducts and food safety.

Article 8.06 Equivalence
